"Thank you for making our wedding day perfect."

The northwest's highly-acclaimed caterer has helped to inspire the fairytale ending for several brides and grooms. So, why are so many couples saying 'I do' to Herb & Spice?

Sitting high on the wedding list of priorities, alongside the venue and photographer, is always the food. And so, no wedding is complete without a sumptuous menu to help get the celebrations in full swing. Selecting a caterer with the magic touch can be a challenge – but with 15 years' experience, Herb & Spice know just how to add the right flavour; contributing to the happiest day of people's lives.

So what makes Herb & Spice excel at wedding menus?

From the word go, Director & Executive Chef Duncan invites couples to sample some mouth-watering dishes, and gives them the opportunity to discuss any specifics, such as themes or dietary requirements – ensuring everyone enjoys the delights of the day:

"The meal was absolutely delicious and was also really appreciated by our Chinese friends and family. Many thanks!" went a thank-you message from one couple.

"Weddings are perhaps the largest and most important events, so second-best is never an option."

Duncan Dickinson

As an outside caterer whose versatility and world-wide accreditation are hallmarks of their success, the chefs are adept to providing wonderfully varied, bespoke menus. The business also extends its services to complete wedding management – from the invitations down to the table dressing and marquee hire.

Herb & Spice have inspired weddings within many luxurious venues over the years – including Tabley House, The Bowdon Rooms, Concorde Conference Centre, to name a few. The team is also just as happy amid the backdrop of stunning garden marquees and impressive country locations. Whatever the venue, the proof's in the pudding: "The food quality, presentation and service were first class in every way. Nearly ten days later and the guests are still talking about!" said an elated Mr and Mrs.

The Executive Chef added, "We not only love doing what we do, but the feedback we get is awesome and always encourages us to keep giving our very best."

And the comments keep coming...
"Duncan – a big thank you for helping to make our wedding day perfect with your fantastic food – our guests could not get over the quality! Your catering staff were brilliant. By the end of the day, they felt like friends!"

Great food brought to you by professional, friendly staff. It doesn't get much better than that.

To complement your nuptials with a sensational menu, contact Herb & Spice on 0161 928 8052.

Written by Nadia Danaos at Danaos Creative